Hi everyone,

Almost the end of term and cross-country tomorrow! I feel that the school has had a great start to the year and that routines seem to be working well for the new students. Congratulations to parents, students and staff for a huge effort towards learning!

I’d like to extend a big “Thank You” to Courtney Watson for her assistance in the pool last week with swimming lessons; with such limited facilities it was of enormous benefit for the kids to have an extra pair of eyes and hands in the water.

Swimming lessons will be cancelled this week due to Cross Country. We had discussed having the lessons on Thursday but I forgot that I have a meeting in Sarina in the early evening so it won’t be possible for me to attend. Maybe, though, mums and kids would like to go along to the pool on Thursday and just practice the skills/drills we have been working on?

Continuing our theme of Resilience: when kids want to do something for themselves, it’s important to let them try. Success builds confidence and struggling with something new teaches them that sometimes they cannot do something which is ok. It’s always ok to ask for help when you have tried and find that something is difficult. The acceptance that we cannot do everything builds resilience as long as the child is helped in a constructive way instead of with criticism for not being successful:

- Give your child independence to try new things they initiate, such as climbing at the playground or opening a container, even if you think it is “too hard” for them.

If you would like more information on building resilience or on how I can assist you or your family, please don’t hesitate to contact me by phone or email. ☺

Hi everyone,

Almost the end of term and cross-country tomorrow! I feel that the school has had a great start to the year and that routines seem to be working well for the new students. Congratulations to parents, students and staff for a huge effort towards learning!

I’d like to extend a big “Thank You” to Courtney Watson for her assistance in the pool last week with swimming lessons; with such limited facilities it was of enormous benefit for the kids to have an extra pair of eyes and hands in the water.

Swimming lessons will be cancelled this week due to Cross Country. We had discussed having the lessons on Thursday but I forgot that I have a meeting in Sarina in the early evening so it won’t be possible for me to attend. Maybe, though, mums and kids would like to go along to the pool on Thursday and just practice the skills/drills we have been working on?

Continuing our theme of Resilience: when kids want to do something for themselves, it’s important to let them try. Success builds confidence and struggling with something new teaches them that sometimes they cannot do something which is ok. It’s always ok to ask for help when you have tried and find that something is difficult. The acceptance that we cannot do everything builds resilience as long as the child is helped in a constructive way instead of with criticism for not being successful:

- Give your child independence to try new things they initiate, such as climbing at the playground or opening a container, even if you think it is “too hard” for them.

If you would like more information on building resilience or on how I can assist you or your family, please don’t hesitate to contact me by phone or email. 😊

Be Respectful  Be Responsible  Be Safe

Picture of the week
Students will be wearing these quick drying sports shirts on special occasions such as sports carnivals and HPE days.

Spelling
Congratulations to Eve and Adam for achieving 100% in spelling and also to Ryan and Jake for improvement in their spelling. Well done Adam – fifth week in a row for 100% spelling.

Reading
Thank you to all who supported the School in the Woolworths Earn and Learn program. Last week the school received their package of fifteen (15) audio books that will be used as part of the reading rotation in order to improve the students’ auditory processing and memory.

Writing
Students are currently completing assessments in English. Students in Prep – Year 2 are analysing characters in text and looking at emotion that the character feels. Years 4 and 5 students are writing an extension to an existing story while our Year 6 student is currently writing a short story.

Numeracy
Students in Years 4 – 6 have been looking at NAPLAN questions and breaking them down to work out which strategy to use to work out the answers as quickly as possible.

Due to the present weather conditions, the Marlborough District Cross Country run has been postponed. Parents will be advised when a new date has been set. Swimming lessons will not be held tomorrow afternoon as Mrs Morphy will not be available.

Hi everyone,

Almost the end of term and cross-country tomorrow! I feel that the school has had a great start to the year and that routines seem to be working well for the new students. Congratulations to parents, students and staff for a huge effort towards learning!

I’d like to extend a big “Thank You” to Courtney Watson for her assistance in the pool last week with swimming lessons; with such limited facilities it was of enormous benefit for the kids to have an extra pair of eyes and hands in the water.

Swimming lessons will be cancelled this week due to Cross Country. We had discussed having the lessons on Thursday but I forgot that I have a meeting in Sarina in the early evening so it won’t be possible for me to attend. Maybe, though, mums and kids would like to go along to the pool on Thursday and just practice the skills/drills we have been working on?

Continuing our theme of Resilience: when kids want to do something for themselves, it’s important to let them try. Success builds confidence and struggling with something new teaches them that sometimes they cannot do something which is ok. It’s always ok to ask for help when you have tried and find that something is difficult. The acceptance that we cannot do everything builds resilience as long as the child is helped in a constructive way instead of with criticism for not being successful:

- Give your child independence to try new things they initiate, such as climbing at the playground or opening a container, even if you think it is “too hard” for them.

If you would like more information on building resilience or on how I can assist you or your family, please don’t hesitate to contact me by phone or email.
